Obituary.

The home of Thomas Childs was made sad on April 5 at 10 o'clock by the gentle stroke of God's hand, taking from this weary earthly home his wife, who was a gentle and kind woman, and was known and loved by the writer and in fact was loved by all who knew her as far as I know, knowing her for the past sixteen years there isn't one that ever said any harm of her.

Knowing of many christian acts done by this dear neighbor I have a right to say that she was as I believe an unselfish, God-fearing christian mother, pointing her little ones to Jesus through gentleness and kindness. Always working faithfully and lovingly for her family, and now how sad are the aunts of those little ones with no mother's hand to soothe their brow, no mother's gentle voice to fall on their ear, and no sweet loving word from mother to bid them cheer. May God in his infinite mercy reach down from his throne on high and save those children from all evil for it is his will. The last time I talked with this dear woman she told me how she talked to her little ones about heaven, the goodness of God, and of the effect it had as she thought on them, and I hope those deep words may make a lasting impression upon those little ones, and that they may grow up in remembrance of them, and she that spoke them. Then cheer, dear children, cheer, your trials may soon be over. Your mother you can meet upon the golden shore, and if you but go on you will reach that golden shore and there with mother where safely dwell parting is no more.

Resolutions.

The alumni of Jackson met in the court house yesterday at 4:30 p. m. and drafted the following resolutions concerning the burning of the Cape normal, our Alma Mater, and its rebuilding; which were unanimously adopted:

On the morning of April 8 it was with deep regret and heart-felt sorrow that we received the sad and startling intelligence of the burning of the southeast normal, our Alma Mater, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the destruction of this elegant building that not merely the pupils in attendance, and the alumni, but all southeast Missouri has sustained an almost irreparable loss. Financially it can be redeemed, but its records, its past reminiscences can never be replaced. Be it further

Resolved, As this school has furnished the means by which many young women and young men have risen to destination, that we recognize in this school one of the greatest educational needs of this part of the state, and in consideration of the fact that with an increasing interest on the part of the two sister institutions and the people throughout the state in the work of the school, with an enrollment exceeding that of any previous year, with an exceptionally practical, energetic, faithful and efficient president, assisted by an able corps of teachers; the normal was entering upon the best year of its history, therefore we commend the people of Cape Girardeau for their zeal, energy and timely aid in providing for the immediate continuation of the school again, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that we favor the rebuilding of this school, and will do all that is in our power to encourage the same.
